

Dr. Matthieu Lefebvre, Computational Scientist Princeton University

Bio: Matthieu Lefebvre joined Princeton University as a postdoctoral research associate within Jeroen Tromp's group in January 2013. His main focus is the optimization of global seismic tomography softwares and workflows. He received a Ph.D. in mathematics from University Paris Nord, in France and a Ms. Sc. in computer science from ENSEIRB — Bordeaux, France, with a specialization in high performance computing.