

Dr. Robert Edwards, Senior Staff Scientist Jefferson Laboratory

Bio: Robert Edwards is a Senior Staff Scientist in the Theory Group at Jefferson Lab. He has been involved in HPC calculations since his PhD, and has experience in the design and construction of supercomputers. He also has had a long interest in developing new algorithms and software for HPC calculations, and is a primary author of the Chroma code suite. He has won a Gordon Bell Prize and also is a Fellow of the American Physical Society.